

L to R: David Schmittou, Adam Shonkwiler, Ken Robinson, Darrel Blackburn

Morality & Mark Twain in 2010: How Far Have We Come?

A panel discussion presented by:
STAGES ST. LOUIS
& Diversity Awareness Partnership

WHEN: Saturday, June 12

TIME: 1:00 - 2:30 PM

WHERE: Robert G. Reim Theatre
111 S. Geyer Road, Kirkwood, MO

Join us for a community education event that will address the intersection between theatre, history, and race relations today. Before the Matinee performance on June 12, STAGES will host a special FREE panel discussion, that will allow the community to dialogue about race and morality in a unique way.

Moderated by:

Alvin Reid, Distinguished Journalist and Panel Member of Donnybrook

Panel Members:

Dr. Robert Archibald, President, Missouri History Museum

Dr. Cindy Lovell, Director of the Mark Twain Museum in Hannibal

Mr. Rudy Nickens, Director of EEO & Diversity, Missouri Department of Transportation

STAGES
ST. LOUIS

For more information,
call the STAGES Box Office
314.821.2407
www.stagesstlouis.org